Culture Change and Quality of Life in Elderly Persons ...

How people view and perceive the aging process varies greatly from culture to culture. Ageism is a common form of discrimination in the United States and other societies that includes negative views and stereotypes about the elderly. This type of discrimination can have a significant negative impact on the care and well-being of elderly people.

How Culture and Society Impact the Elderly

While many cultures celebrate the aging process and venerate their elders, in Western cultures -- where youth is fetishized and the elderly are commonly removed from the community and relegated to hospitals and nursing homes -- aging can become a shameful experience.
