Structure: The Double Fisherman's, or Grapevine, Bend (ABOK # 294, p 50.) consists of two Strangle Knots (like double overhand knots) each tied round the other standing end. However, because it is created around another line, this structure may not be obvious. Warning: For the Animation, the ends were left short. For critical loads, e.g., when Climbing, the ends must be left much longer.
